Hi German and Zoltan

Today we had a call with the client, and they shared with us the SNR script we need to use. I am attaching the files, and as I explain, we need to run a test with their script and validate that we have the same results.

If you have any questions, please let me know.

Regards

Thanks Rodrigo,

I ran the client's script in the files provided and I confirm we got the same numbers, so we will start using it instead from now on. Do we need the script in the production tracker to start automatically rejecting those prompts with less than 25 SnR (using the new calculation) again?

Hi Germa,

Thank you for the prompt response.

Please let's run the script on the productions tracker and, yes, set it automatically to reject the ones less than 25dB.

Regards
